

A vibrant space-themed poster. At the top, a large, cratered yellow planet (resembling the Moon) has a red banner wrapped around its middle. To the left, a rocket ship with orange and white segments is launching, leaving a trail of orange flames. To the right, a large, swirling purple and pink planet is visible. The background is a deep purple space filled with white stars and a bright orange and red nebula at the bottom. Two astronauts in white suits are floating in the lower half of the poster. At the very bottom, a small green alien with large eyes is peeking out from behind a dark, cratered planet surface.
