

RSE

Year group: 5

Term: Autumn

Respecting ourselves and others

Responding respectfully to a wide range of people; recognising prejudice and discrimination

Prior knowledge

- to recognise differences between people such as gender, race, faith
- to recognise what they have in common with others e.g. shared values, likes and dislikes, aspirations
- about the importance of respecting the differences and similarities between people
- a vocabulary to sensitively discuss difference and include everyone

National Curriculum Objectives

By the end of primary school:

Pupils should know

- the importance of respecting others, even when they are very different from them (for example, physically, in character, personality or backgrounds), or make different choices or have different preferences or beliefs.
- practical steps they can take in a range of different contexts to improve or support respectful relationships.
- the importance of self-respect and how this links to their own happiness.
- that in school and in wider society they can expect to be treated with respect by others, and that in turn they should show due respect to others, including those in positions of authority.

Topic overview

Treat others with respect.

How you treat others will be how they treat you.

By the end of this unit, I will be able to:

- to recognise that everyone should be treated equally
- why it is important to listen and respond respectfully to a wide range of people, including those whose traditions, beliefs and lifestyle are different to their own
- what discrimination means and different types of discrimination e.g. racism, sexism, homophobia
- to identify online bullying and discrimination of groups or individuals e.g. trolling and harassment
- the impact of discrimination on individuals, groups and wider society
- ways to safely challenge discrimination
- how to report discrimination online
